

Francisco Manuel García Costa is Full Professor of Constitutional Law. University of Murcia.

Summa Cum Laude (extraordinary award) of Degree; Magna in the National Academics Awards; European Doctorate in Constitutional Law by the Università degli Studi di Bologna; Honorary Doctorate by the Sociedad Mexicana de Criminología-Capítulo Nuevo León.

He has three five-year periods of teaching and two six-years periods of research

Author of four books (Algunas originalidades del constitucionalismo español, Atelier, Barcelona, 2015; La víctima en las constituciones, Tirant lo Blanch, Valencia, 2014; La función electoral del Parlamento, Atelier, Barcelona, 2009; La Ciencia española del Derecho político-constitucional en sus textos, Valencia, 2008).

He has coordinated three collective works (Memorias iberoamericanas: Historia, Política y Derecho, Aranzadi, 2015; La protección de las víctimas del terrorismo en el Derecho autonómico de la Región de Murcia, Diego-Marín, 2014, Murcia; Retos del Derecho en el siglo XXI, Tirant lo Blanch, Valencia, 2009).

Author of more than forty other research works published in Spain, Italy, Greece, Mexico, Colombia and Brazil.

He has presented lectures and conducted research stays at European universities (University of Bologna, University of Roma Tre, University of Paris I, Panthéon-Sorbonne), American universities (Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México, Escuela Judicial de Panamá, FUNGLODE, Universidad Santo Tomás) and Asian universities (Communication University of China, National University of Mongolia, Universitas Muhammadiyah Malang of Indonesia).

- He is Director of Campus Mare Nostrum Network of specialists in Public-Constitutional Law.

-Member of the Electoral Board of the Region of Murcia.